

How to Be a Boring Bad Writer

1. Never learn new words.
2. Be afraid to say interesting things.
3. Read as little as possible.
4. Always play on your laptop so wouldn't have to think for yourself.
5. If you can't get the right words, just give up.
6. See what everyone else is writing, and do exactly that.
7. Stop making people enjoy your writing – never make them “see” the action, gasp in surprise or laugh.
8. Make sure you never revise your writing – the first try is enough.
9. Definitely take the easy way.
